OVERWHELMING BRITISHFORCE

And Depletion in Boer Banks Will Soon Bring Victory Rapid Reinforcements of Several Commands Indicate a Rapid and Decisive Move-Relief of Ladysmith Looked Forward To.

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 .- While London had received not one word of news from Natal and no direct news from Cape Colony, the feeling of confidence continues and grows stronger. seems to doubt that Gen. Buller is making a third attempt to relieve Ladysmith. So sure does the public seem to be that British arms will in the end triumph that even if Gen. Buller were again unsuccessful there would be no ch outery as followed his previous fallures, for any heavy loss inflicted on the Boers is a decided British gain. The tide of British opinion turned with the report from Spearman's Camp that Gen. Joubert had only 19,000 men between Buller's army and Ladysmith and the statement by Mr. Wyndham that the British would soon have 213,000 troops in South Africa. Gen. Buller has been heavily reinforced with men and guns; additional regiments have been sent to the forces operating in Cape Colony, and 13,000 men are about to sail from England for the cape. It is realized that the English must win by sheer force of overwhelming numbers, if not by superior fighting capacity. French Hostility.

Lately the German military critics have not had so much to say about the peril of the British army. Leyds is still being feted in Berlin, but the centre of anti-British feeling seems to have moved to Paris, the British am-bassador having left the city owing to the hostility of the French press and

The London morning papers devote much more space to speculation on the impending campaign in Cape Colony than to Gen. Buller's operations. The military expert of the Morning Leader ваув. "There is no news to show that Gen.

Buller has not carried out the intentions which we know he entertained on Friday morning.

"The orders issued then contemplated the possibility to delay.
"Nothing is known in Aldershot or

London of any change in the plans.

Boers Must Fight or Surrender. "It is certain now that the Boers at Colesberg have been so masked that they cannot well take part in any general operations, but must fight or surrender.

The Morning Post military expert

Tide Turning.

"The tide is beginning to turn in the western theatre of the war. A telegram, dated yesterday afternoon, announces from Nanuw Poort that an overwhelming for e of infantry has been sent to seize Norval's Pont and that the Boers at Colesperg are virtually surrounded.
"This looks as though Gen. French had been reinforced, perhaps by Gen. Chermiaide's brigade, and now felt able not only to complete the investment of the Boer force at Colesberg, but also to attempt to seize and hold the passage of the Orange river at Norval's Pont, where the railway crosses the stream. It is the most likely point at which to stop the march of reinforcements for the Boers or the retreat of any who may be able to escape from Colesberg. The reinforcement of Gen. French is the beginning of a systematic direction of the campaign.

As soon as he is strong enough Gen.

French will complete the circuit around the Boer force and then close in on it.

Gen. Kelly-Kenny is moving along the railway by Steynsburg towards Storm-

"There is now a prospect that in two three weeks the British forces will holding the passages of the Orange busy in bidding up the prices of their holdings and in feeding the new demand to take their profits; but while selling stocks from the one hand to realize on the rise they were taking on new holdings of different stocks with the other. Apparently the confidence that stocks which have not yet shared in the advance could be induced to move upward was unimpaired and the holdings of the large financial interests which have taken hold of the market were broadened and extended. The duration of this kind of upward movement does not always depend strictly on the continuance of the public demand for stocks. There is a constant process of unloading by compact and well organized financial interests into the hands of scattered and unskilled speculators who have not the same experience and adrottness in protecting their holdings, nor the same resources for maintaining them. The progress of a buil movement almost inevitably results in the transfer of holdings from strong to weak hands and leaves the market vulnerable to attack by bear operators who are able to force selling by offering down prices and uncovering margins. Even to-day, attempts by bear operators were in evidence to force decreases, but the general demand for stocks continued so good and the large-holdings are still in such strong hands that the market resisted bear assaults and presented a hard and unyielding surface, even at points where realizing was going on. Yesterday's strength in National Steel gave way to realizing to-day and the metal group of stocks was without any conspicuous leadership. Norfolk & Western was also sold to take profits all day, after an opening rise of a point, but refused to yield below last night's level. Tennessee Coal was forced down at one time 34 points. The bears centered their attack on Sugar and had that stock down at one time to 108½.

Rumors that the refineries were to shut down and over production to be worked off at a loss figured in the manipulation. But in the meantime aggressive buying movements developed in the trunk lines, led by Pennsylvania, in the coalers led by Reading first preferred on the decision to pay a dividend and in the grangers and westerns led by St. Paul and Atchison, both commen and preferred. The Battimore & Ohios, also, after a paure of a day to digest profit takings, renewed the advance. The progress towards extension of holdings by the great railroad systems of losser and competing systems but much to do with the strength of Pennsylvania and other lines supposed to be in process of absorption. The coming advance in the Tidewater freight rates on bituminous coal was also an element. In the outside market there was an advance of over thirty points to 345

Breadstuffs and Provisions.

CHICAGO—The increased movement in the northwest and the absence of sipping demand were the ruling factors in a weak wheat market to-day, May closing %5% under yesterday. Corn closed a shade down and oats unchanged. Provisions at the close were 5612% improved from yesterday's final figures.

Sep 23/2 improved from yesterday's final figures.

Weak cables and heavy northwest receipts were influences in a decline in wheat at the opening, initial figures for May being ¼c under yesterday's close at 67/4/967%c. The strength of corn, the report that the India wheat area was 35 per cent less than last year's and a lar-May being %c under yeaterday's close at 674,667%c. The strength of corn, the report that the India wheat area was 35 per cent less than last year's and a larger decrease in the world's visible than had been expected, gradually worked the price of May from 67½c. The winds in the solid off early, up to 67%c. There was no demand, shorts having covered and the market broke. May decilining sharply to 67%c. Cosing %6%c under yesterday at 67½c. New York reported twelve loads taken for export seaboard clearances in wheat and flour were equal to 582,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 331,060 bushels. exported with 522,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 331,060 bushels ast year. Minneapolist and Duluth reported 402 cars, against 24 last week and 401 a year sgo; receipts here were 22 cars, none of which were of contract grade.

The corn market was firm the greater part of the day and at times active, helped by reports of excessively hot weather in Argentina and higher cables, together with small country offerings. In sympathy with wheat with the heavy receipts—1,135 cars here—also a consideration, the market eased or later and closed at the bottom. May ranged from 33%623½c to 33½c, and closed a shade depressed from yesterday at 33½c. The sample market was stendy but dull and trade not large. The receipts here were 14 cars; May sold from 23½c to 23½c, and closed a shade depressed from yesterday at 33½c. The sample market was some profit takings, but this caused but little reaction; and closed unchanged at 23½c. The provisions market was strong and trade fairly active at the opening. The receipts of hogs under the estimate and higher prices at the yards were supports. Latet the influence of the coton strength was felt in a demand in the south. There was some profit takings, but this caused but little reaction; strongth was felt in a demand in the south.
